

Aggie Scheduler Builder goes live

On Nov. 1, NMSU launched Aggie Schedule Builder, a new course registration tool that allows students to easily create their class schedules. Students simply select the courses they want, specify the times that aren't available for class (work, sports, clubs, study times, meals, etc.), and then let Schedule Builder generate all possible conflict-free schedules. Once students choose a schedule that works for them, they can add it to the shopping cart and complete their registration. This work was a collaborative effort by DACC, ICT, and Student Success.

Although registration hasn't begun yet, students are able to use the tool, save their chosen schedule, and then submit it when registration opens up. Additional information about Aggie Scheduler builder is located at <https://studenttech.nmsu.edu/aggie-schedule-builder/>. Aggie Schedule Builder can be accessed from the student tab, under the registration option in MyNMSU.edu.
